

Bastille Day Wines: 14 Rosés For The 14th

Updated Jul 15, 2024, 02:12pm EDT

J de Villebois Sancerre Rosé 2023, Loire Valley. This off-dry/semi-dry salmon-colored wine is a bit of an outlier: Mevushal and made from Pinot Noir in a region of the Loire better known for its bracing Sauvignon Blancs. This, however, is a sweeter-riper style, delivering the red fruits you'd find in baskets at the farmers market. Good pairing with soft cheeses, crab cakes and lobster rolls.

Lana Bortolot

A career journalist, I turned my attention (and tastebuds) to wine reporting in 2009 and have covered trends, products, regions and the business of wine ever since. I hold the Advanced Wine & Spirits Education Trust certificate and am working on Diploma, a multi-year quest I hope to accomplish in 2023. Other reporting appears in the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, the International Herald Tribune, Entrepreneur, Wine Enthusiast, and Saveur magazines, Hugh Johnson's Pocket Wine Book for six years, and numerous guidebooks. Having covered most European wine regions and a few in South America (22 countries and counting), I am always looking for a new wine-stained stamp in my passport. Read Less

<https://www.forbes.com/sites/lanabortolot/2024/07/13/wines-for-bastille-day-14-ross-for-the-14th/>